BOARD MEETING TO COMPLY WITH SOCIAL DISTANCING

Due to statewide and Santa Cruz County shelter-in-place orders, the Santa Cruz County Board of Supervisors will hold its regular 9 a.m. meeting on Tuesday, March 24, 2020, with limited seating.

The public is highly encouraged to participate remotely by visiting www.santacruzcounty.us and navigating to the March 24 agenda by hovering your mouse over the "Government" dropdown menu, followed by the "Board of Supervisors" tab. Once you click on the March 24 agenda, the public can watch live video and click on comment bubbles next to each item in order to submit live comments. First-time users of the meeting portal will need to follow the link to sign up for an account.

The Board of Supervisors chambers will be limited to 13 seats, with additional capacity in the basement Community Room via teleconference. Two members of the Board of Supervisors will participate remotely.

Due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, Gov. Gavin Newsom has granted local governments flexibility in complying with provisions of the Bagley-Keene Act and Ralph M. Brown Act in order to discourage large group settings.

Among the items on the Board's agenda is an update on local efforts to limit the spread of COVID-19 and a possible moratorium on residential and commercial evictions.
